WELLS-GUIBERSON MAY MAKE 500 BARRELS

BAILEY HOTEL TO ADD THIRD STORY STARTING AT ONCE

Plans for Addition and Other Changes and Improvement To Cost $25,000 Have Been Completed and Bids Will Be Received October 6

Plans have been completed and contracts will be awarded October 6 for the addition of a third story and other changes in the Bailey Hotel. It was announced here Saturday by S. W. Bailey. The improvements will give the Bailey twenty additional rooms, each with a bath, making a total of fifty guest rooms.

In addition to the third floor, a number of changes will be made in the arrangement of the first and second floors so as to harmonize the present building with the new third floor.

The third story will be of brick construction and a pleasing architectural treatment will give the finished building a handsome appearance. The design is such as to harmonize with the present building and eliminate unattractive features which often mar the appearance of buildings when additional stories are put on.

Three large double guest rooms will front on Pease street, overlooking the courthouse square. Two French door exits will open onto small steel balconies overlooking the square on this front. Eight guest rooms will front on Cumberland street and the remaining rooms will be arranged around an open court on the west and north sides of the building, giving each of the new rooms an outside exposure.

The stairway leading from the lobby to the second floor will be changed. It will rise from the center of the lobby, extend west to a landing and then turn to the right to reach the second floor.

The second floor is to undergo some radical changes in decoration and arrangement. Four rooms with bath are to be provided on this floor. All rooms in the present building are to be re-furnished and re-decorated.

Another feature of the new building will be a spacious banquet room on the ground floor, with connections to the Liberty Cafe. A kitchenette will be provided adjoining the banquet room which will make this room available for use by all kinds of dinner and luncheon parties, and service may be provided by the Liberty Cafe or church societies by using the kitchenette. This arrangement will be a big improvement over the present facilities for handling luncheon meetings. In addition to providing the utmost privacy it will be possible to obtain the best of cuisine service. It is now necessary to have such meetings on the sun porch fronting on the second floor of the hotel and food served from down-stairs.

It is planned to begin the construction work on the third floor as soon as the contract is let, and rush it to completion. The changes in the first and second floors will not be started until the third floor is completed and there will be no interruption in the operation of the hotel. The cost of the improvements and the refurnishing of the rooms on the second floor will be approximately $25,000.

Voelcker & Dixon of Wichita Falls are the architects.

FATHER OF BAYLOR STAR SEES GAME

F. P. COFFEY AND OTHER RELATIVES GO TO ABILENE FOR OPENING OF SEASON

F. P. Coffey and daughter, Miss Mary Frances, of Vernon, son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Coffey of Chickasha, Okla., and grandson, Joe Coffey, of Elberta, were in Abilene last Saturday to witness the football game between the Baylor University team and the Simmons College eleven.

The Vernon man is father of Bill Coffey, star quarterback of the Baylor team, and the trip was made to see the young man play. Mr. Coffey says the Baylor team is stronger than it was a year ago and he predicts that the team that beats Baylor will win the championship of the Southwestern conference.

The reason Baylor did not pile up a big score last Saturday against the weaker Simmons team, Mr. Coffey says, was that the Baylor coaches did not want to risk injury of any of their stars in a contest that has no bearing on the conference championship. Most of the first string men were taken out he says after the first half. Bill Coffey carried the ball for the first touchdown of Baylor's playing season.

The local man is an ardent football fan and says he expects to attend a number of this year's big games.

Husband of Former Vernon Woman Is Victim of Accident

Fred Venable, son-in-law of S. M. Pybas, of this city, who was farming near Claude, died in an Amarillo sanatorium, Saturday from injuries caused by a run away team.

Mr. Venable was plowing in his field with a disc plow when the horses became frightened and threw him under his plow. The body was shipped to Claude and interment made in the cemetery there yesterday afternoon.

He was married here about two years ago to Mrs. Pearl King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Pybas of Northwest Vernon. Mrs. Venable is bordering on a state of collapse since the death of her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Pybas and children attended the funeral.

LIONS WIN FIRST GAME OF SEASON OVER ALTUS 27-0

Locals Defeat Fast Aggregation from Oklahoma Town in Opening Contest of 1924 Season at Fair Park Last Friday Afternoon

The Vernon high school Lions celebrated the opening of the 1924 football season Friday afternoon by defeating the fast eleven from Altus, Okla., high school Friday afternoon at Fair park by the one-sided score of 27 to 0.

The visitors have been three times Oklahoma champions and last year were runners-up in the state finals. The locals went into the game anticipating a hard fight and a close score. They got a hard fight out of the Oklahomans but were able to amass a big score.

Captain Hanson Walker received the first Altus kick-off on his own 15-yard line and made a brilliant broken field run for a touchdown in the first minute of play. Bourland received the second kick-off and made a fine gain, but the defense of the visitors stiffened and the Lions were held scoreless until the last ten minutes of play when Walker scored two touchdowns on straight football after the locals had carried the ball down the field for steady gains.

Cooper recovered an Altus fumble in the last quarter for the fourth touchdown of the game and the game ended with the ball in the Altus territory.

Although badly outweighted the locals outplayed and outgeneraled the visitors at almost every stage of the game, but it was not so much of a runaway as the score would indicate. During more than three quarters it seemed as though Walker's brilliant run in the very outset of the contest would furnish the only score. A break-up of a forward pass by Bourland probably kept the visitors from scoring, but beyond this they made no serious threat against the locals. As the game neared the end, however, the outland assaults on the Altus line and successive gains were scored until he ball was in scoring position for the final smashing of the Altus defense in the final quarter for three of the locals' touchdowns.

Fridley's performance heartened the followers of the Lions. They were hitting the line harder than ever before and were showing a fighting spirit that will no doubt carry them through many a tight place in the conference games this year.

Coches Baggett and Wilmon feel encouraged over the showing made by their charges Friday. It was a real test against a real team and the experience gained will be of great benefit when the conference season opens with Wichita Falls, October 18.

King Maker Is Married to Spanish Duchess

Sir Basil Zaharoff, Anglo-Greek man of mystery, reported to be the richest man in the world and called "The King Maker of Europe," has been married in his castle at Passy, France, to the immensely wealthy Duchess Villafraña de los Caballeros, formerly Duchess de Marchena.

PIONEER CITIZEN DIES HERE SUNDAY

T. A. SCURLOCK PASSES AWAY AFTER LONG PERIOD OF ILLNESS—BURIAL AT CLEBURNE

T. A. Scurlock, 71, pioneer merchant and business man of Vernon, died at his home here at 1 o'clock Sunday morning following a period of ill health lasting over two years. The body was shipped to Cleburne for interment beside his wife who died here April 9, 1921. Burial was made yesterday afternoon at Cleburne.

Brief funeral services were conducted Sunday night at the Underwood undertaking parlors on East Pease street by Rev. O. P. Clark, Methodist presiding elder, and Rev. E. L. Moore, pastor of the Presbyterian Church. The body was sent to Cleburne on the train leaving here about 1 o'clock Monday morning, accompanied by D. W. May of Fargo, a brother-in-law of the deceased.

William M. Scurlock, brother, and only surviving member of the immediate family of the deceased, arrived here yesterday from Sweetwater to look after matters connected with winding up the business matters of his brother.

T. A. Scurlock was born in Illinois January 8, 1853. He came to Texas as a young man and married Miss Sallie A. May in Dallas, October 25, 1877. One son, Walter Edgar, was born to the couple September 1, 1878, and died August 4, 1879.

Mr. Scurlock was engaged in business in Dallas and Cleburne for a number of years and opened his first business in Vernon in 1888. He and his wife spent a part of their time here for several years before establishing their home here. His attention was divided between his business here and at Cleburne and Dallas. About eighteen years ago they established their permanent home here and continued to reside in Vernon until their deaths.

T. H. Shive, who was intimately associated with Mr. Scurlock in business here for a number of years, entering his employ in 1889, said yesterday that Mr. Scurlock was one of the most upright and far-sighted business men he had ever known. Cron failures here in the early thirties, coupled with other business reverses at about the same time, practically ruined Mr. Scurlock financially, but he later rebuilt his fortune to some extent, Mr. Shive said. At different times Mr. Scurlock owned considerable property in Vernon. He built the two-story business house at the corner of Pease and Main streets, now known as the Murray building and occupied by the Famous store.

Mr. Scurlock's long business career here led him to know many people throughout this section of the State. He was a quiet, unassuming man and was generally liked. He and his wife were very devoted and he never seemed to fully recover from the shock of her death in 1921. Mr. Scurlock was a member of the Methodist church and a Mason.

THREE LOCATIONS MARK EXTENSION OF SOUTH FIELD

Murchison & Pigg Acquire Thirty Acres on Hawkins, Bond & Williams Tract Offsetting Winnipeg—Hunter & Danciger Start Rig

Three new locations in the South Vernon field are features of the new developments in the past four days. Murchison & Pigg have purchased 30 acres south and west of the 10 acres being drilled by the Winnipeg Oil Company on the Hawkins, Bond & Williams tract and have made two locations to begin drilling just as soon as the new water supply line is laid to the field.

One of the Murchison & Pigg locations is offsetting the Winnipeg well on the south and the other is an offset on the west side. The consideration on this deal was $300 per acre with an eighth over-riding royalty and other considerations with reference to development.

The third location of the past few days was made by T. F. Hunter and A. Danciger on their 40-acre lease recently acquired just north of the Bridwell & Heydrick lease. The location is in the southeast corner of the west half of the north-west fourth of section 84, block 14, H. & T. C. Railway Company's survey. Rig tubers were being moved to the lease yesterday and today.

Another deal of importance this week was the purchase of the Church lease of 40 acres, adjoining the Bridwell & Heydrick lease on the east, for a reported consideration of $45,000 by John O'Donohue and associates. This lease includes the big Church gas well, brought in some time ago, and from which fuel for operations in the field is being furnished. Bridwell & Heydrick are associated with Mr. O'Donohue in the deal on the Church holdings.

It is announced that Bridwell & Heydrick will make a location in the next few days to offset the Church gasser on the Stephens land, just across the road south from the big gas well.

The Derrick on the Prince Bros. lease east of the Church lease on the Zipperle tract is about completed and the well will be spudded in shortly.

The Winnipeg Oil Company's well on the Hawkins, Bond & Williams tract is drilling and is expected to reach the Bridwell stand about the latter part of this week or the first of next week.

Bridwell & Heydrick, Stephens No. 1 is drilling at 350 feet. Sheerin & McCaney have completed cleaning out the Dumas-Elis well and are on a sand at 1238 feet which will be tested out before drilling deeper. The same people are rigging up over the Richardson well preparatory to resumption of drilling.

The Kemo-Birdsong is drilling at 1900 feet.

OIL PIPE LINE WILL BE LAID TO SOUTH VERNON FIELD BY WAGGONER REFINING COMPANY AT ELECTRA—WATER ASSURED

A four-inch oil pipe line will be laid into the South Vernon field immediately by the Waggoner Refining Company of Electra. It was announced yesterday. The line will be laid from the company's refinery, located just west of the town of Electra inside of Wilbarger County, R. L. More of this city, manager of the Waggoner interests here, stated last night that work would begin today on laying the pipe and that it would be completed within twenty days. It is about 22 miles from the refinery to the field.

Another announcement of importance to the operators in the field was that a four-inch water line would be run from the reservoir in the Waggoner ranch, near Gray Back crossing, on Beaver Creek, to the South Vernon field, and work will be started at once and it is believed that it will be completed in about ten days.

The reservoir now has about 500,000 barrels of water impounded and it is thought that the supply will be adequate to meet the requirements of operators. A pumping plant at the reservoir will be installed, in addition to a complete

SPECIAL SERVICES BY MACK BAPTISTS

REV. J. W. OLLER TO PREACH FROM SAME TEXT USED THIRTY YEARS AGO, THERE

Special services will be held at the Mack Baptist church in the south-east part of the county, Sunday, October 12. This date marks the anniversary of thirty years pastorate of Rev. J. W. Oller at that church. The text, "For we shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ," Romans 14:10, preached thirty years ago by Rev. Oller, at the old Grapevine school house, will be used again at the morning service.

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock, the pastor will lecture on the history of the First Baptist church organized in this part of the county. Only two of the charter members of this church are living.

An invitation is extended to all the old members and old settlers to attend. The song books used by the pioneers in the faith will be used. Rev. Mr. Oller and his wife have lived thirty-six years in the Mack community, having come to their farm there in 1888, seven years after the county was organized.

Mrs. C. L. Meek of Kingsville is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Leutwyler.

Three Are Hurt When Car Plunges Off Embankment

Mrs. Lon Byars and little son and a young woman, whose name has not been learned, were painfully bruised when the automobile, in which they were riding plunged off an embankment about one mile and a half east of Vernon on the Colorado-Gulf highway late yesterday evening.

Mrs. Byars was driving and the three were returning to their homes in the Bonland community. Mrs. Byars attempted to pass some trucks which were blocking the road near a culvert. The car missed the culvert, plunged over an embankment and turned a complete somersault.

The young lady was thrown from the car and the driver and the boy were pinned under the car. The injured were removed to their homes and medical attention summoned. They were not seriously hurt and will cover.

LATEST SENSATION IN FIELD FOLLOWS DRILLING DEEPER INTO SAND AS EIGHT INCH STREAM IS THROWN OVER DERRICK

Increased Production in Well on Section 99 Is Looked Upon as Giving Territory a Stability That Insures Development on an Extensive Scale as Operators Are Attracted to Wilbarger County Field

The development of the Wells-Guiberson, on section 99, into what promises to be an even bigger well than the Bridwell & Heydrick Dill No. 1, furnished the sensation of the South Vernon oil field over the week-end. Following the developments on the Bridwell & Heydrick lease, offsetting the Wells-Guiberson, Miss Thelma Wells, manager of the Wells-Guiberson lease decided to drill her well deeper in the sand in the hope of picking up a better production.

This was done Saturday and the flow immediately jumped to 250 to 300 barrels. Sunday and Monday efforts were made to drill still deeper in the sand and the well continued to increase its flow. It has not yet been completed but most of those who saw the well yesterday predicted that it would produce not less than 500 barrels.

Twice yesterday the well got away from the drillers and threw an eight-inch stream of oil far above the top of the derrick. The well has been drilled 9 feet deeper into the sand, making a total penetration in the sand of 16 feet. It is believed the sand is fully 30 feet deep, which, if true, stamps the South Vernon field as one of the most promising oil areas in the North Texas field.

The Bridwell & Heydrick well continues to flow at 400 barrels and better daily. Handling the oil as fast as it flows from the wells continues to be a problem. The number of trucks operating between Vernon and the field has increased, but even with the added truckage facilities it is impossible to keep pace with the production.

Water supply is presenting another problem in the field. The available supply is nearing depletion and with continual expansion in drilling operations, the field is confronted with the necessity of piping water into the field from some more distant source.

With the announcement yesterday of the construction of a four-inch pipe line to the field by the Waggoner Refining Company, whose plant is located in the eastern edge of Wilbarger County, near Electra, and the laying of a four-inch water line from the 500,000-barrel reservoir at Gray Back crossing on Beaver Creek to the Waggoner ranch, both the oil delivery problem and the water supply problem will shortly be solved.

The handling of the oil supply caused no difficulty until the Bridwell & Heydrick well swelled the output of the field to a point where trucks could not keep pace with production. During the summer the frequent rains kept the water tanks filled in and near the field, but with the rapid increase in operations and the depletion of the local water supply continued development of the field on a big scale was threatened.

In case of emergency or disaster in this or any other community, the Salvation Army would not limit its activities to the expenditure of the Local Relief Fund, but, on the contrary, would extend every possible aid, using such funds as might be available in the State or other funds created for such emergencies.

"The Salvation Army urges officers and members of the local Advisory Board to be on the alert and promptly take action in cases that need immediate relief in this community."

"To help others help themselves, that is the mission of the Salvation Army. The Advisory Board is the connecting link between the Salvation Army and the public in this community. The representative men and women members of the Board are the people who should judge administration."

The young lady was thrown from the car and the driver and the boy were pinned under the car. The injured were removed to their homes and medical attention summoned. They were not seriously hurt and will cover.

is in doors and constant. Work on the farm is not going to injure the health of any normal boy. Factory work will.

The proposed child labor amendment is just another step in breaking down the authority of the states and the families. Of course the adoption of the amendment will mean the employment of an army of Federal labor spies to travel over the country at public expense to see that youths under sixteen are kept in idleness.

WATCHING THE NEW YORK RACE.

This is presidential year and as usual much attention is being paid to political developments in New York state. In fact, the Empire state is this year considered of more than unusual importance because of the possibility of certain western states being carried by the third party ticket headed by Senator La Follette, making it practically certain that neither of the major parties can hope to carry the electoral college without New York's vote.

Naturally under such conditions a great deal of strategy is being employed in efforts to carry New York. The Democrats are relying on the popularity of Governor Al Smith to help the national ticket and have renominated him by unanimous convention vote. The Republicans have countered by nominating Theodore Roosevelt, in the hope that magic of the Roosevelt name will be a rallying cry for this fall.

Of the two names, the Democrats have an advantage. Governor Smith is popular in his own right. He is a veteran politician of demonstrated strength. Of course, it is yet to be determined whether Smith's popularity can swing enough support to the national ticket to give the state to Democrats. He may not even win himself, but he will certainly strengthen the chances of the party in New York.

Of Roosevelt, however, not so much can be said so far as purely political matters are concerned. His chief claim to availability is that he is the son of a very distinguished and an immensely popular man who is now dead. Young Roosevelt's record in politics, while not uncomplimentary in the least, has not been such as would be expected to recommend him for the gubernatorial nomination in New York in a presidential year. The Republicans are clearly relying on the name to carry them through.

These are some of the reasons why the developments of the campaign in New York will attract more than the usual amount of attention. With President Coolidge confining his activities to the utterances of platitudes on academic questions, thus robbing the national campaign of an interest that always attaches to a discussion of live issues and leaving Mr. Davis, his opponent, to the task of stirring up national interest, it is quite probable that the New York state struggle will eclipse the national campaign. This will almost certainly happen if young Roosevelt is possessed of some of the spirit and zeal of his illustrious father. But if he fails to stir the popular imagination the campaign in New York may assume an aspect very similar to that of the national campaign at the present time, with the Democrats enjoying a distinct advantage. SOUND BUSINESS POLICY FOR THE STATE.

State Superintendent Marrs is advocating the passage of a law levying a permanent school tax for school purposes which would do away with the necessity of asking the Legislature for appropriations to supplement the common school funds and to support the high institutions of learning. Whether the method of meeting this need as suggested by Mr. Marrs is the correct one, The Record will not venture an opinion. A constitutional amendment levying the tax, just as the Confederate pensions tax was levied, might be better, but there can certainly be no quarrel with the suggestion of Mr. Marrs by any one who has given serious study to the condition of the State's finances and the undesirable aspects of making it necessary for heads of the A. & J. College, University and other higher institutions of learning to appear before each biennial session of the Legislature as mendicants begging for money.

As the educational funds are now handled it is a common occurrence to have a deficit in the Treasury. In fact, it is frequently necessary for teachers and others to either discount warrants received for salaries or wait from one to three or four months to get their pay. It is a disgrace for a great State like Texas to ask its creditors and especially those who serve it at meager salaries to wait for their money. No private business could be operated on such a basis. Our lawmakers would become highly indignant at the injustice done working people if private business enterprise attempted to do business as the State does. Some years ago a law was passed requiring corporations employing more than a certain number of people to pay off at least twice each month. No one complains at that, but school teachers and other servants of the State are not shown as much consideration.

If Mr. Marrs is suggesting a plan by which a disgraceful condition can be removed, it ought to be adopted. But if his suggestion is not approved some other plan for carrying his idea into execution should be found. There is no good reason for the State of Texas doing business like a man on the verge of bankruptcy.

There is no good reason for the State of Texas doing business like a man on the verge of bankruptcy.

Huggins Bible Class Creates Loan Fund at Methodist University

The W. H. Huggins Bible class of the Methodist Sunday school raised a loan fund of $225 last Sunday to assist students in Southern Methodist University who are unable to pay their own way through the school. The action followed a talk on the previous Sunday by Dr. H. M. Whaling, vice president of S. M. U., on the need of funds to assist students through school.

The University authorities make it a rule to limit loans to students who are paying at least a part of their expenses by working outside of school hours. The fund raised by the Huggins class will be handled under the direction of the University authorities under restrictions made by the class and with preference being shown to students in the institution from Wilberger county.

It is planned to increase the loan fund of the class to at least $250 at once and to increase it with offerings to be taken in the class as often as once each year.

The action of the Huggins class is the first step ever taken by an individual Sunday school to create a student loan fund at S. M. U. In recognition of the honor of being the first class to create such a fund the University authorities will call it the Vernon plan. Other Sunday school classes will be urged to follow the example of the local class.

PUNKINVILLE PARAGRAPH EDITOR HERE TOMORROW

"Something Else" is the name of the lecture and it is said that the lecturer changes the subject every two minutes. He is returning from a tour of West Texas and wherever he goes, press dispatches say that the lecture is everything to be desired in the way of a humorous talk. His knowledge of local people will surprise his audience. A treat is in store for all who go to hear the man who made Fletcher Hensten, Raz Barlow and Miss Finnie Belcher famous.

Miss Harrington And Mr. Flaig Are Married Saturday

The marriage of Miss Vera Kathryn Harrington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Harrington of this city, to Mr. Joseph Holmes Flaig of Lubbek was beautifully solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Koch in Quannah Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock. The Rev. Dvorak read the beautiful ring ceremony.

The groom's best man was Mr. George A. Simmons of Quannah and Miss Harrington's only attendant was Mrs. J. Anton Koch, also of Quannah.

The wedding came as a surprise to the many friends of the bride who is one of the most popular young women of the city. She was educated in Greenville High and is a graduate of Wesley College Conservatory of Music. This past winter she studied pipe organ and piano in New York City. Mrs. Flaig is recognized as one of the most talented young musicians of the state.

During her residence in Vernon she has been organist for the Methodist church and the church, as well as the music club and the social club, feel a keen loss in her going.

Mr. Flaig is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Flaig, prominent Greenville family. He is now manager of the Lubbek Cotton Oil Mill. He was educated in Greenville High.
